Product Definition

Kiana Rodriguez

DESN 214: Web Design I

Professor Barbra Masters

Content

1 Purpose Statement

2 Core Purpose List

3 User Personas

4 Top Five Functions

5 Measures of Success

6 Competitor's Visual Audit

Product Statement

The website is an art portfolio that not only provides artistic services to customers but also serves as a resume for clients looking to hire an artist.

Core Purpose List:

- Art showcase
- Personal Work & Creations
- Resume For Clients
- Product Shop for Customers
- Freelance Commissions
- Network Masterlist
- Skill Progression & Evolution
- Example for Other Artists
- Free Personalized Website
- Free Guides & Tutorials
- Art Courses

User Personas

Rhea Miller
Fan-loving customer

Rhea Miller loves fan merchandise, often visiting conventions and artist alleys or exhibitor halls. She would like to support me directly and buy my Pokemon-themed lanyards because she is a huge Pokemon fan.

Daesha Louis
Undergrad Student

Daesha Louis is an art major in college, and she has a decent following on her art accounts in social media. However, she wants to learn how to make her own online art portfolio, so she sees my website for inspiration.

Neil Collins
Showrunner

Neil Collins is a cartoon showrunner best known for his indie-animated show, "The Tales of Tessa & Jayla", and Disney's "Batter Up!". He is looking for someone with experience in storyboarding, character designing & animation for his newest project.

Tyreese McClellan
Online-Course Enroller

Tyreese loves music production, but he has developed an interest in drawing and painting for a hobby. He wants to take my online-course service to learn.

Top Five Functions:

Minimalist Design
Highly Functional on Mobile
Clear & Cohesive Navigation Guidance
Compelling Header
Listed Resources